

The Non-Existence of Things in Themselves

17–18 October 2017

University of Luxembourg, Institute of Philosophy

17 October

11:30–12:00

Welcome

12:00–2:00

Guido Kreis & Lars Lodberg (University of Aarhus)
Arguments for and Against the Non-Existence of Things in Themselves

2:30–4:00

Arnaud Pelletier (Université libre de Bruxelles)
Monads and Things in Themselves

4:30–6:00

Cord Friebe (University of Bonn)
Kant on Indiscernibles and the Ontology of Appearances

6:00–7:30

Christian Onof
(Birkbeck College/Imperial College London)
Reality in-Itself and Causal Grounding

18 October

9:00–10:30

Henny Blomme (KU Leuven)
Kant's Agnosticism About the Existence of Things in Themselves

11:00–12:30

Dietmar Heidemann (University of Luxembourg)
Things in Themselves and the Finiteness of Cognition

1:30–3:00

Sabrina Bauer (Universities of Heidelberg/Luxembourg)
The Epistemological Distinction Between Appearances and Things in Themselves

3:30–5:00

Jacob Kristensen (University of Aarhus)
Is being Free Being as I Am in Myself?

5:00–6:30

Joe Saunders (University of Leeds)
Out of Time, Freedom and Things in Themselves